Discussion:
1. Chalk and Wire training
   - Doug Hanna showed us how to use Chalk and Wire from a student perspective and from an evaluator perspective
   - Login to Blackboard; on the left is a link to Chalk and Wire
   - Links to training videos and documents are on the website
   - When students are submitting artifacts, we can add demographic-type questions to the exercise, such as “How many ALEs have you completed including this one” etc. Denise and the Office Directors will work on these over the summer.
   - Doug will be setting up accounts for REAL Council members and Tara will let us know when that is available.

2. Other
   - Marilyn noted that Curriculum Committee gave a trip to Canada, stating 33 contact hours in a week, bookcased between just a few hours on the front and back of the tour full blessings for the same category as a three week study abroad program. This can have implications for ALEs.
   - The committee discussed and agreed that the requirements for an experience to count as an ALE are developed by the REAL Council. We feel the experience should be longer and want the participants to have a deeper, less rushed experience, such as the traditional definition of a minimum of 3 weeks.
   - Marilyn will define the specific details (e.g. minimum of 3 weeks) and provide them to the REAL council.
